“ Geneva was a beautiful woman. She was kind, soft spoken, empathetic, and just a great human being.

I remember her from the time I was a teenager and was a friend of her son Terry. I always envied Terry for having such a loving mother.

Terry was always "to cool" to have a doting mom, while in his friend's presence, and he always pretended he didn't want the attention from her... but he did... he loved her.

When Terry and I left for the US Air Force in 1963, she took us to the train.. It was amazing to me to "feel" how much she loved him, and I have always felt a special love for her because of that.

Great lady .. great memories. Terry...Geneva.. rest in peace.. Bruce Newland
