“ Ken these comments go back many moons so you (family) might not remember. But upon learning that we were kin, I asked at school that next week, how can you have an aunt and uncle that are younger than yourself...?

Again, back in the day before we all grew-up and were scattered to the wind, it was one of the family outings, we all were visiting at your parents home and it started snowing on Christmas Eve. We ran around in the yard trying to catch a snow flake.
