“ To the Davis Family, I am sorry for your loss. I send my condolences to you and yours.

The Bible makes it clear that God did not originally intend for humans to die.

As the Bible explains. "Through one man [Adam] sin entered into the world and death through sin, and thus death spread to all men."

Romans 5:12.

Jesus Christ himself said: "Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out." John 5:28&29.

May Jehovah God and Jesus Christ be with you and your Family?

“ May the "hearer of prayer" continue to comfort your family. Remembering the joyous times you've shared together will always make you smile. Talking about these special times you've shared will help your family stay strong. Each day will get easier as you lean on one another and pray for strength. We hope that the many cards, hugs, kind words, and loving prayers sustain you during this most difficult time. (Proverbs 3:5,6)

“ My heart is heavy with the news of Maddie's passing. While I did not know the family personally, I did meet them during two fundraising events for this sweet child & feel blessed to have been a part of the prayers lifter up for her and her family. Maddie brought this community together in such a special way that truly warmed my heart and restored my hope in humanity. I pray for comfort for Jake, Kathy, Lydia along with the rest of their family and friends. Maddie was a miracle within herself and accomplished more in her short life than most people do in a lifetime. May God's grace and love continue to bless each of you in the days ahead until you are reunited with Maddie in Heaven.

“ I didn't know your family personally, but I can relate the grief you must be feeling now. I too lost my 18 month son from drowning. I didn't have a chance to tell him good bye, and that is one memory you will have to be thankful for. I know that one day soon, we will see them again. They were both very beautiful and loved children from God. I will be praying for the family and I know God will give you comfort. God bless all of you.

“ While I don't know you all in person, I've been following Maddie's story. I was on the birth-month-board of June 2011 on TheBump, and after Maddie's story came out, many of us June mommies have been keeping track of Maddie and her journey, and have been hoping and praying for you all. While I know it doesn't bring her back, let me just say that I am glad your precious girl is no longer suffering. I could only hope that if I were called upon to do so, that I could handle such a situation with all of your strength and love. She fought so gracefully, and I know she will not soon be forgotten by anyone. She lives on in all of you, and in all of us whom her story touched. <3 Praying for peace on all of your hearts.
