“ Hello Family and Friends:

My name is pkk, former back door neighbor and friend of Ms. Margaret, who I affectionately referred to as MM. I have the distinct pleasure to write about MM today.

Please be careful dear family on your journey as you take your dear mother home. Since I can't personally stand up for her, I wanted to take a moment to write about 'my' MM, who I affectionately called my "Morning Glory".

MM was a devoted Great Grandmother, Grandmother, Mother, Wife and Daughter. She raised a wonderful daughter, Joan, and steadfast son in law Rick, who I admire and adore. She also raised a beautiful family who I got to know personally.

MM loved the sun and tanning, loved life, her family and serving others. I always joked with her over my sunburn and her tan. Like really?

MM stuck by me through my battle with cancer. When I was going bald, I would ask her if I would ever have hair like hers? She would just give me that radiant smile and twinkle in her eye. I knew it was a no way hosay, but she never once said it. What a southern lady.

When MM turned 100, she was not feeling well but her adoring daughter, son in law and family, gave her a beautiful birthday celebration. Next thing I witnessed, she had gained angel wings and prospered.

Angels are often thought of as agents of change, loving concern, encouragement, humor, intelligence and light. MM was all these things to me and her family..

Some people are thought about often and always with a smile. Much more often than you and your family know, you are thought about warmly, cared about always, and wished every good thing in life as you continue to follow your dreams, the dreams she wants you to fulfill and pursue. I know this because she shared it with me.

We are all going through this time of grieving and trying to comfort closely while practicing social distancing, Its crazy I know..

We just all pray awaiting together, that this sorrow will lessen.

Our Lord needed her more than she needed to be here. He decides when we come into him and he will give her peace. God bless her sweet soul and keep her 'my' angel.

Amen and Amen.

Sincerely and affectionately, Larry, Pat and Ben Kennell
