“ Margaret was a part of my life as far back as I can remember. Sharing a visit, going for pizza, helping at my wedding reception. Always making me a delicious coconut cake for a Christmas present as long as she was able.

“ Margaret enjoyed good times with so many people and preparing items to share with her friends and family. You had a real treat if you were fortunate enough to have a slice of her chocolate pies or deviled eggs with jalapenos. She sent a lot of cards at Christmas, and she sent them early - usually before I even started wrapping gifts! One year she made cute little bags filled with "Snowman Poop!" for my girls (white marshmallows). All I could do was laugh. My Brother, Ray Dabbs, would drive Margaret to my house for Christmas and/or Thanksgiving when she felt better. Conversations were certainly quite lively when she joined us! Margaret was a blessing to many, and I feel blessed she was part of our lives. Rest in Christ's Love.

“ Margaret helped take care of me and my sister when we were young and growing up. I have many memories of her and thought I'd share a few. She was quite the talker, and one of my favorite expressions she used was an expletive, Turkey Snot! Thinking about it always makes me smile.

I remember playing on her porch one time and there was a little green snake. I was staring at it, and it was staring at me, and all of a sudden here comes a broom from behind me as Margaret swooshed it into the metal railing, startling me, as she yelled at the snake to get off her porch.

One afternoon I was supposed to be taking a nap but wasn't actually asleep. She came to check on me and I quickly closed my eyes to pretend I was sleeping. She called out asking if I was asleep, and I couldn't help but start to grin at the silly situation I'd put myself in. When I wouldn't admit I was awake, she walked up to the bed, stood there a second, then tickled me to get me to admit it!

Margaret was a very loving woman. She may be known for cakes, but I was never crazy about cake, so she would make fried apples for me instead, and they were delicious. She would always tell me I was special and to not let anyone tell me any different, even if it wasn't my birthday... and we were at someone else's birthday party...

RIP Margaret.

“ My family and I were so sorry to hear of your loss. Margaret was a neighbor & friend to my parents quite a few years & later to us. She and my Mom enjoyed their long conversations while She and Dad both loved to watch the Nascar races. They would call each other to make sure the other one was aware of the televised time. She knew my parents enjoyed her delicious cooked Cabbage & whenever she prepared Cabbage , she would make sure to share with them . When my Mom was in the hospital , Margaret was very helpful & such a blessing to give of her time to help out. She was a special person and will be missed. Prayers for your family during this time.
