“ PJ was a wonderful aunt to my children. She spent countless hours taking them to amusement parks, camping, and simply spending time with them. They loved her Donald Duck voice and she used it often for them. She was a kind, loyal, and sincere person. She was loved by many and will be sorely missed.

“ Getting to know PJ was a true joy. I have fond memories of the times she would attend Phi Theta Kappa Conventions with Mary. I will never forget the last time they travelled over three hours just to visit and treat me to lunch. PJ had a way of bringing laughter and joy to everyone around her. The way PJ dealt with her incapacitation was a true inspiration to me and others who suffer chronic illness. She manifested a great will and tenacity to accomplish anything she put her mind to doing. I will truly miss her. My deepest heartfelt condolences to Mary and PJ's family. Please know you all remain in my thoughts and prayers. May God be with you during your time of grief and bring you comfort. Warm gentle hugs!

“ PJ was a wonderful lady with a very giving and loving heart. She had such a positive outlook on life. Even though she was incapacitated, it did not stop her from her gardening or wood workings. She certainly loved her time at the flea market. I will certainly miss her and she will always hold a special place in my heart and memories. My deepest sympathy to Mary and the PJ's family at this sad time. May God.s peace and comfort be with you at this time.

“ PJ had a big heart and was always there for her friends. I remember her riding around with a stuffed Wiley Coyote. PJ gave the impression that she was tough but it was she was tendered hearted and those that were close to her knew the truth. She loved animals and adopted my dog Nikki when I moved out west. Nikki took to PJ the first moment they met. It was as though they had made a pact to take care of each other before they came to the earthly plane. The world has lost a special person, God has taken a special soul into his home. We will miss you PJ.

“ From playing softball back in the day to seeing you at the flea market working your tables, and you made many a friend, seemed like you never met a stranger and you you were always making people laugh, it's that, what life is all about, being happy and spreading joy. PJ, I am going to miss you at the flea market this year but you are running through fields with no wheel chair anymore. RIP PJ, I will always remember you and thank you for so many little memories. My thoughts and prayer to Mary, and PJs family and friends. May God touch your hearts and comfort each of you in the days ahead.

“ PJ was a kind-hearted woman of great generosity, and she loved to see people having fun! My children will always remember the trips she and Mary took them on to all the great amusment parks in the Southeast. I will remember playing softball at their house with my children, too.

I am going to miss her, but I know she is still having fun and trading stories in her heaven.
