“ I’m so sorry that I’m just now seeing this. The Wrays were an everyday part of my life growing up. Tinker was like an older sister. I have so many memories of Sammy and Tinker and John and Joan’s kids growing up, ruing the fields and pastures, swinging from trees and playing in the dirt. Teresa and I were very close as children, she has my friend since birth. My Mom loved Velvet and Tinker. I can’t tell you how many times I have thought of and missed the family. Sammy was much older than me so my memories are more about him working on the farm with his Dad. I worked with Doris Taylor years ago and knew that he had a little girl named Samantha and that he was doing well. I’m so sorry that I never really knew much him, but at least he is with Velvet now.
