“ When I think of you I think about all of the times you helped me with my confidence by calling me pretty girl. You reminded me that I’m beautiful on the inside & out, and that’s what you are to me plus more. I don’t think you realized how much that truly meant to me, and I’m shedding tears while typing this. When God put you on Earth he put you on Earth for you to heal, and strengthen people by showing your strength as an example. You will always be the strongest person I know, and you will always be beautiful on the inside & out no matter what. I don’t want people to remember you as just by being a survivor because you were so much more than that, and that didn’t change you as a person. You will always be the Aunt Sandra that I’ve known since I was little, and nothing will ever change that. Watching you go through that was hard on me, seeing you fight through that really put tears in my eyes as well as everyone else’s, and you will always be a light to others your a star. 🌟💜🌹🕊️ and I know when God called you home you lit up Heaven with your smile. I love you, and you will continue to live on through all of our family’s memories. ~4ever~&~always!! 🐻

“ Dear Sandra, I miss you more than ever! I miss your voice, your laugh, your hugs, I miss everything about you. It hasn't been easy for me, since you, and nanny have been gone. I still cry, and my heart still breaks that I can't see y'all anymore. It's never going to get easy for me. I mean how could it? When I've lost two of the best people that were in my life, but I always tell myself I'm not going to let this defeat me. I have you to thank for that, because you didn't let cancer defeat you. No matter how much I want to give up I can't, because more than anything I want to make y'all proud. Y'all aren't going to be with us physically for graduation, but in a way y'all will, because y'all are watching over us. You've always treated me as if I were your blood niece, and for you being apart of my life, I will forever be thankful, thank you for giving me a cousin that I was able to grow close with over the years, It hurt when you left, but you gave me a blessing way before you left, and I'm great full. You're beautiful, kind, and just mean a lot to me. When we were little you, and Uncle J took us to Chucky Cheese, Barney, Care Bares Live, and y'all took us to Tennessee, and Other places when we've got older, The memories we've shared together will always mean the world to me, I still have every birthday, Christmas, Easter, Valentines day card that has ever been giving to me by family, and sometimes I look at the ones you, and nanny gave me, and cry because I miss y'all so much. I listen can't listen to certain songs, because they remind me of you, and I get emotional sometimes. I know you love Minnie, and Mickey mouse, so now I've became a die hard Minnie, and Mickey mouse lover just to keep your spirit alive. I got a Minnie tattoo for you, and a owl tattoo for nanny, and I love them. whenever I look at them, and when others see them we know y'all are really a piece of me. They remind me who I'm doing this for. I'm getting straight A's now, and every good thing I do in life is for y'all. I remember when we went to Walmart one night, and I got a pink Minnie, or Mickey shirt for you, but you didn't really get a chance to wear it that much, so anytime you see me in a Mickey sweatshirt that's why. I love you, and miss you more than you'll ever know, and you will always have a place in my heart. -Love McKayla

“ Today was not easy. I just want to let you know everyone loved you very much. I can speak for everyone when I say your the strongest person I ever met. I know Uncle J, and Cody really loved you. I miss those times when You, and Barbara took me and Cody to Elcorn pool when we were younger. You will forever be in our hearts, smiling down on us. I know your up there with Nanny. I agree with mama. When they closed the casket it hurt. None of us wanted to let you go, but we know deep in our hearts that we will see you again. Every since you've been fighting, It really made a postive impact on my life. Your in a better place, and you and Nanny going home. Only makes us want to fight even harder to make it to Heaven to see y'all. You, and Uncle J are a example of how to treat someone when you truly love them. You gave me the strength I was missing. Thank you for not only coming in my life, but letting me get to meet your family, For coming into Uncle's life and making it special, and for giving me a cousin, that has made my life so much more better. You have done so much by just being who you are as a person. You deserve to be in a much better place. I love you. & you & Nanny are forever in my heart & on my mind.

“ Dear Sandra,
I'm just at a loss. I just talked to you several weeks ago and we talked at Sam's club about your treatments and how hard you were fighting. Your love for Cody and Jeff was enough to make you keep fighting. You talked about your hair but we knew it would grow back. We talked about old times at Bassett Walker when we were there for each other. Robin, JoAnn, you and I were all inseparable. We even talked about the pizza in the machines in the canteen the canteen that we loved then. I will miss you. I know you're pain free now and I know it's selfish of me to wish you were here. Rest in peace my sweet friend until we meet again.

“ When we were in elementary school in the same class and ride the same bus, Sandra and I became good friends. After she moved to Pittsylvania County, we stayed in touch exchanging letters as we grew up. Even after our lives got busier as we became teenagers then adults, I still thought of her often, especially times I would ride by her Grandma Pearl's house. We crossed paths not once but twice at the Danville fair some years ago and spent time talking, laughing, and catching up. I also got to meet Cody at the time, but he may be too young to remember that. Sandra always had a big smile on her face. I send my sincerest thoughts and prayers to Cody and his father, as well as Sandra's sister Barbara and the rest of the family. Rest in peace, Sandra!

You were always the one person who called me pretty. Other people called me that sometimes. But it meant a lot coming from you. You will always be known as my hero. I don't think anyone has faulted Cancer the way you did. When someone asks me who my hero is i'm going to look back on this hard time, and thank of you. You truly are my inspiration. I never thought you could fight the way you did, but you showed me otherwise. I wouldn't have traded you for anything in this world. It hurts but I love you, and would want you to be happy instead of suffering. It never matter how much hair you lost. You were still beautiful to me on the inside and out. Thank you for coming into my life, and making me realize you can put anything you put your mind to. I love you, and your in a better place with nanny, so I know your safe.
