I worked in Final Finish for years with Bill, He always ended up making me laugh about something. He had a God given personality that you don't find in many people. God looked down and saw a need for Bill up in heaven, so He dispatched an angel to go and bring him home. We will miss his presence, but this is not the end, If we all live right in accordance to God's will and Words we will see him again.

“ Words are difficult at a time like this, as losing Bill so unexpectedly, just months after Elizabeth, seems impossible for anyone to endure, especially a mother. I have loved this family all my life, and Bill was such a wonderful soul I'll never forget. When Elizabeth was dying, I had the blessing of visiting with the family, and even though I hadn't seen Bill in 40 years, we picked up right where we left off as kids. Sylvia, I can't begin to imagine your shock, pain and grief, as losing all 3 of your children is impossible to grasp. But this I know, and so do you - God's plan is perfect and He will never leave us. Lean on Him and so many others who love you so dearly. May He comfort you and give you peace in the days ahead. I just know how happy Bill is in Heaven today, and I pray this gives you peace. I love you so much, Sylvia. Always have, always will. Carol Reynolds Wynn

It's hard to express the shock and awe of it all. Myself, Jeff George, Alan and Bill hung out together as kids. All four of us walked about 10 miles a night for years and we enjoyed each other's antics. My Mom's Dodge station wagon, my Roadrunner, Jeff's GTO and countless dirt bikes, motorcycles were all put to good use. The things we did, the lives we shared, through good and bad, we came out in one piece. I just spoke to Bill two days before he passed and we always kept in touch through the 47 years I've known him, Jeff George knew him even longer. Over the years so many things changed, but one thing was consistent was our friendship. I can still recall many of the memories we made as kids and Bill was always in the thick of things. Sylvia, bless you for always staying in touch and you watched all of us grow from boys into men. I think about Alan, (Lil bit) Elizabeth and Bill often and know the wonderful times we had as kids all growing up together. God bless you Sylvia, Steve Bush
